Friday Antenna Workshop

Practical Antennas For The Low Bands

Presented by Rudy Severns N6LF

We are near the bottom of the sunspot cycle and the low bands (40-160m) are hot. This workshop is intended to help you get practical and high performance antennas going on the low bands. The workshop will begin with a careful look at shortened antennas for restricted space and how to make them efficient. Then we'll move on to larger wire antennas and some simple array examples. There will be a good deal of talk about ground systems, when and where they are needed and how to make them efficient. The emphasis will be on simple and economical antennas that the average ham can build.

Rudy Severns is a retired electrical engineer. He was first licensed in 1953 as WN7WAG. He holds an extra class license, a B.S. Engineering from UCLA and is the author of two books and over 80 technical papers. He is a fellow of the IEEE and sometimes teaches electrical engineering courses at OSU. In ancient times he held 1st radiotelephone and second radiotelegraph licenses, was a radio operator on a special forces A-team and a radioman in the naval reserve.

Attendance is limited to 100 registrants. Fee: Pre-registered, $15. At the door $18 (space available). Deadline for pre-registration is May 25, 2007.

SEA-PAC Banquet

This Banquet is limited to 300 reservations.

The SEA-PAC banquet is a time to acquaint yourself with hams from around the division, the nation and the world. Our guest speaker at this years banquet is Mary M. Hobart, K1MMH.

Mary M. Hobart, K1MMH, is Chief Development Officer of the American Radio Relay League (ARRL), the national association for Amateur Radio. Hobart is responsible for all fund raising activities on behalf of ARRL including Spectrum Defense, Education and Technology, W1AW and Historic Preservation. She also manages ARRL's Diamond Club for annual giving, the ARRL Maxim Society for lifetime giving, estate planning, and solicits grants to support League emergency communications and educational activities. Her interests in Amateur Radio include emergency communications and education.

Prior to joining the ARRL staff in 2001 as the organization's first development officer, Hobart was the Vice President for Development at Connecticut Public Broadcasting in Hartford, Connecticut. She's also worked in development for public broadcasting stations in North Carolina, Philadelphia and New Jersey.

Don't miss this event, get your SEA-PAC event and banquet tickets today as seating is limited.
